CURATED BY DEBBIE DICKINSON

Debbie Dickinson Gallery presents at the Carl Hansen & Son Showroom featuring the spring season's art stars. From May 4th until June 1st, a group exhibition will showcase working artists who tap into the potential of hypothetical forces of singularity. These artworks unlock new perspectives and ideas, giving rise to the germination of fresh visuals. Awakenings of new genres and experimentation begin while conversation flows from a dark few years of solitude. The Light Period emerges. To showcase this integration the show will feature the return of Bryan LeBoeuf, Bill Buchman, Evan Sebastian Lagache, Iran Issa Khan, Anthony Haden-Guest and will introduce David Richardson, Geraldo Perez, Prince Palace, Tom Krantz and sculptor, Jorge Vascano. The Fresh Art Exhibition is curated by Debbie Dickinson.

ABOUT THE DEBBIE DICKINSON GALLERY

Debbie Dickinson established her gallery in 2010 with the promotion and curation of over eighty art shows throughout New York, Nantucket, The Hamptons, Palm Beach, Wynwood, Paris and Art Basel Week in Miami Beach. This exhibition marks her third Art Exhibition as Gallerist. Her efforts have been recognized by ChaShaMa organization in support of the inaugural location of the gallery. Her first location was 2,600 square feet of retail space on 23rd Street in the Chelsea Arts District, the second location was on 14th street at Union Square. Historic from 1975 through the late '90s, Dickinson travelled the globe working as a supermodel and then collaborated with international artists and fashion designers as sales agent and consulting/curating on major projects. This will mark a second chapter for her in the arts as she continues to have an iconic international supermodeling and acting career, as muse for designers, directors, and photographers. The gallery is known for showing a balance between 21st Century Masters and emerging talent. Debbie Dickinson Gallery also exhibits at major art fairs.

Buchman's career has spanned more than fifty years and he is known for abstractions characterized as "symphonies of space, form and color." His figures are described as "lightning bursts of energy condensed into a fine line."
